ION Welcomes ARAM to the Family

Delivering on our promise of being the one-stop shop for advanced seismic technology, ION added ARAM Systems to the family in September. The ARAM ARIES product line is known by land contractors around the world for its rugged reliability and for its ability to efficiently handle high-station count acquisition. ARIES joins FireFly® and Scorpion® in ION's portfolio of land acquisition systems. So look no further when faced with challenging land projects. Whether cable-based or cableless, analog geophone or digital full-wave, chances are ION has [The Right Tool for the Job].

For more information on the ARAM addition and ION's land toolkit, visit iongeo.com.
